RUEBIE SMITH

CONTRACTING SPECIALIST

Ruebie brings dependability, respect and dedication to advisors in the contracting process. What this means to you is she will help where and when she is needed to assist IPG and your team. Ruebie has spent most of her career in the insurance industry, with 20 years as an office manager for an individual agency. She brings deep experience in the property and casualty sector and she was recognized for her well-developed prioritization and organizational skills. This, in combination with her knowledge of operations, allows for proficiency in the requirements of licensing and contracting and the confidence to assist advisers with expertise. Ruebie is also involved in the SILA foundation. The real benefit when working with Ruebie is her commitment to her word and being a trustworthy resource. Ruebie is a native to Arizona and the Phoenix area. She enjoys doing anything outdoors, including hiking, camping, and fishing. Whether she is spending time with her son and new grandchild or just out for a leisurely stroll, she loves the vast desert scenery Arizona has to offer.
