MANNY BUSTOZ

CASE MANAGER

Manny's core values include building strong relationships, a commitment to excellence and promoting the good of the "whole". He is a team player who tries to bring his best to the table each day, always trying to learn something new or how to do something better and is willing to sacrifice for the good of the team. What this means to you is, that Manny always tries to bring his best self to the situation and treat each advisor with a good attitude and kindness. He is driven to provide a good outcome and is always glad to assist and work hard.

Manny has taken classes at both Mesa Community and Chandler/Gilbert Community Colleges with a focus on Mathematics and Architectural Design. He worked at IAG as Director of Life Insurance, assisting them to build their New Business side, implementing processes for efficiency with case management strengthening relationships with life carriers and independent advisors.

Manny believes that financial health begins early in life, that "Money demands attention" and prosperity begins with your mindset. He is a supporter of the Red Cross, The Society of St. Vincent De Paul and the Sojourner Center. He enjoys classic books, drawing, painting, sculpting, guitar, and playing video games with his kids who he takes to the pond every day. Manny lives in Tempe, Arizona.
