JEREMY PETERSON RELATIONSHIP MANAGER

As IPG's relationship manager, Jeremy Peterson embodies the characteristics that help cultivate successful partnerships, including his sense of humor, reliability and trustworthiness. What this means to you is he can be counted on to prioritize your needs. He understands the meaning of exceptional service. Jeremy graduated from Bemidji State University with a bachelor's degree in business finance with an MIS minor. Jeremy worked as a Brokerage Director at Partners Advantage Insurance Services and as an Annuity Marketer at The Sunderland Group prior to working at IPG. The real benefit of working with Jeremy is the trust, confidence and dependability he provides in working for you and your clients' best interest. He is the President of Ada-Borup School Booster Club where he resides in Ada, Minnesota. Jeremy is an avid sports fan; in particular, the Vikings, Twins, and Timberwolves. His favorite movies are thrillers and comedies. He is married with three sons and serves as a football coach at the elementary and junior high level and a youth traveling league basketball coach.
