JUSTIN DYE

OPERATIONS ADMINISTRATION

As IPG's Operations Administrator, Justin brings honesty, logic, learning and a terrific sense of humor. What this means to you is when working with Justin you know honesty is paramount. He is motivated to learn, not just to help himself, but to alleviate any difficulties for others. The real benefit is Justin's ability to adapt to unfamiliar situations, which he uses as a learning opportunity to devise solutions. His quick problem-solving skills are essential in an environment driven by technology, making him a favorable asset to IPG. Justin graduated from Westminster College in Fulton, Missouri in 2016 with a Bachelors of Arts degree in Applied Science Entrepreneurship. Justin previously held a position in Commissions and IT at IPG from 2012 to 2014. Justin lives in Cave Creek, Arizona and spends his time making, building, or fixing just about anything. In particular, Justin loves to work on cars and trucks. His other hobbies include computers, electronics and playing with his two blue-healers, Chance and Myka.
